

Bilingual Poetry Reading on Grand Harp at Historical Clock Tower

宮沢賢治の詩の世界 朗読とグランドハープ

Poems full of unique cosmic vision, high idealism & rich colorful vocabulary, read and sung in Japanese and in English on popular pieces played on the grand harp

7p.m.-8:30 (Doors open at 6:30) Thurs. 27 October, 2016

Sapporo Clock Tower, cnr. N-1 W-2, Sapporo.

♪ Music; “Romance,” “Song to the Evening Star,” Jupiter,” “Nocturne,” “Sonata Pathetique,” “Raindrop
Prelude,” “Impromptu” “The Foggy Dew” etc.

★Poems: from Spring & Ashura, Mental Sketch Modified by Kenji Miyazawa, one of the most famous Japanese writers. His poem “Be Not Defeated by Rian” became a theme poem for 3/11 Tsunami disaster survivors.

★Performers:

Yuriya J. Kumagai (Performance Poet & Translator), Takana Suzuki (Harpist)
and Masayashi Saito (Poet and Story-Teller, Film Director)

★ 1,000Yen for adults, 500 Yen for high school students and younger.

★All Proceeds will be Donated to 3/11 Tsunami orphans' education

★For Booking & Inquiries, please contact Yuriya poetry.sapporo@gmail.com or 090 8707 2688

☞Organizer☞ Yuriya Kumagai's Office, Sapporo University

☞Nominal Supporters☞ The City of Sapporo, Sapporo International Communication Plaza Foundation,

